IN RE: AFTERMARKET FILTERS ANTITRUST LITIGATION	Master File No. 1:08-CV-4883
THIS DOCUMENT RELATES TO: ALL INDIRECT PURCHASER ACTIONS	MDL No. 1957
	Honorable Robert W. Gettleman
	FOURTH AMENDED CONSOLIDATED INDIRECT PURCHASER COMPLAINT

ANSWER OF CUMMINS FILTRATION, INC. TO PLAINTIFFS’
FOURTH AMENDED CONSOLIDATED INDIRECT PURCHASER COMPLAINT

Defendant Cummins Filtration Inc. (“Cummins”) answers the allegations contained in the Fourth Amended Consolidated Indirect Purchaser Complaint (the “Complaint”) as follows:

Complaint ¶ 1

This action involves a conspiracy among the Defendants and their co-conspirators to fix prices and to engage in other unlawful practices intended to raise, maintain, and/or stabilize prices for replacement motor vehicle oil, fuel and engine air filters (“Filters”).

ANSWER TO ¶ 1

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 1, except admits that the Complaint purports to allege a conspiracy among Defendants to fix prices and to engage in other unlawful practices intended to raise, maintain, and/or stabilize prices for replacement motor vehicle oil, fuel and engine air filters.

Complaint ¶ 2

Beginning as early as January 1999, the Defendants exchanged confidential pricing and other competitively-sensitive information with one another via in-person meetings, telephone calls, facsimile and other communications. A number of the allegations with respect to the collusive meetings and communications between and among the Defendants are based upon the personal knowledge of William G. Burch, a former senior sales executive at Former Purolator and Champion (two Defendants who together controlled a significant portion of the market) during most of the Class Period.

ANSWER TO ¶ 2

Cummins denies that it exchanged confidential pricing and other competitively-sensitive information with other defendants via-in person meetings, telephone calls, facsimile and other communications. Cummins is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 2 and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 3

Since the conspiracy began, the Defendants successfully implemented multiple coordinated price increases for Filters.

ANSWER TO ¶ 3

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 4

The Defendants charged more for Filters than they could have charged in a market unfettered by their unlawful conduct. The Defendants' illegal overcharges were passed through to end-users. Plaintiffs and other similarly situated indirect purchasers accordingly suffered injury to their business and property.

ANSWER TO ¶ 4

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 5

Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief under Section 16 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 26, for the Defendants' violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1. Plaintiffs also seek to recover damages under state antitrust, unfair trade, consumer protection, and/or deceptive trade practices laws, and common law principles of restitution, disgorgement, and unjust enrichment (as well as to recover the costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys fees), for the injuries that they and all others similarly situated sustained as a result of the Defendants' conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize the prices of Filters.

ANSWER TO ¶ 5

Cummins admits that plaintiffs purport to assert claims pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act for alleged violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act and under various state antitrust, unfair trade, consumer protection and deceptive trade practices laws and common law principles of restitution, disgorgement and unjust enrichment. Cummins further admits that plaintiffs seek injunctive relief and damages. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 5.

Complaint ¶ 6

This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the federal antitrust claims asserted in this action under Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1), Section 16 of the Clayton Antitrust Act (15 U.S.C. § 26) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337. The Court has jurisdiction over the state law claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1367 because those claims are so related to the federal claims that they form part of the same case or controversy. The Court also has jurisdiction over the state law claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because the amount in controversy for the Class exceeds $5,000,000, and there are members of the Class who are citizens of a different state than the Defendants.

ANSWER TO ¶ 6

Paragraph 6 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 6.

Complaint ¶ 7

Pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 22 and 28 U.S.C. § 1391, venue is proper in this district because one or more of the Defendants resided, transacted business, were found, or had agents in this district and/or a substantial portion of the affected interstate trade and commerce described below has been carried out in this district.

ANSWER TO ¶ 7

Paragraph 7 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 7.

Complaint ¶ 8

This Court has personal jurisdiction over each Defendant because, inter alia, each Defendant: (a) transacted business throughout the United States, including in this district; (b) manufactured, sold, shipped, and/or delivered substantial quantities of Filters throughout the United States, including this district; (c) had substantial contacts with the United States, including in this district; and/or (d) was engaged in an illegal scheme and price-fixing conspiracy that was directed at and had the intended effect of causing injury to persons residing in, located in, or doing business throughout the United States, including in this district.

ANSWER TO ¶ 8

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 8, except admits that Cummins admits that it manufactured and sold light duty, oil, air and fuel filters during the alleged class period. The remaining allegations in Paragraph 8 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required to the remaining allegations, Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 8.

Complaint ¶ 9

The activities of the Defendants and their co-conspirators, as described herein, substantially affected commerce throughout the United States and in each of the states identified herein because the Defendants, directly or through their agents, engaged in activities affecting each such state. The Defendants purposefully availed themselves of the laws of each of the states identified herein in connection with their activities relating to the production, marketing, and/or sale of Filters. The Defendants produced, promoted, sold, marketed, and/or distributed Filters, thereby purposefully profiting from access to indirect-purchaser consumers in each such state. The Defendants also contracted to supply or obtain goods or revenue related to the business for Filters. As a result of the activities described herein:

- a. The Defendants caused damage to the residents of the states identified herein;

- b. The Defendants caused damage in each of the states identified herein by acts or omissions committed outside each such state by regularly doing or soliciting business in each such state;
- c. The Defendants engaged in persistent courses of conduct within each such state and/or derived substantial revenue from the marketing of Filters (and services relating to such marketing); and
- d. The Defendants committed acts or omissions that they knew or should have known would cause damage (and did, in fact, cause such damage) in each such state while regularly doing or soliciting business in each such state, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct in each such state, and/or deriving substantial revenue from the marketing of Filters in each such state.

ANSWER TO ¶ 9

Cummins admits that it manufactured and sold automotive and light-duty truck oil, air, and fuel filters during the alleged class period. Cummins denies that it caused damage to the residents of any states identified in the complaint. Cummins denies that it caused damage in any of the states identified in the complaint by acts or omissions committed outside each state. Cummins denies that it committed acts or omissions that it knew or should have known would cause damage. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 9 concerning the actions of any other defendant, and on that basis denies them. The remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 9 assert legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required to the remaining allegations, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 9.

Complaint ¶ 10

The conspiracy described herein adversely affected every person nationwide who indirectly purchased the Defendants' Filters. The Defendants' conspiracy has resulted in an adverse monetary effect on indirect purchasers in each state identified herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 10

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 11

Prices of Filters in each state can be manipulated by conspirators within that state, outside of it, or both. Without enforcing the antitrust and/or consumer protection laws of each of the states identified herein, companies that break the law will go unpunished. The Defendants knew that commerce in each of the states identified herein would be adversely affected by implementing their conspiracy.

ANSWER TO ¶ 11

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in the first sentence of Paragraph 11, and on that basis denies them. The second sentence of Paragraph 11 asserts policy statements that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in the second sentence of Paragraph 11. Cummins denies the allegations contained in the third sentence of Paragraph 11 concerning Cummins. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 11, including those concerning any other defendant, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 47

Defendant Affinia Group Inc. is a Delaware corporation located at 1101 Technology Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48108. On or about December 1, 2004, Affinia Group, Inc. (formerly AAG OPCO Corp.) purchased the stock, assets and liabilities from Dana Corporation relating to Wix Filtration Products as set forth in the Stock and Asset Purchase Agreement by and between AAG OPCO Corp. and Dana Corporation dated July 8, 2004 (the "Purchase Agreement"). A true and correct copy of the Purchase Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit A. The Purchase Agreement can also be found online at <http://www.secinfo.com/dsvrn.z5Gy.7.htm#1stPage>.

A. At all relevant times prior to December 1, 2004, Dana Corporation operated Wix Filtration Products through its Automotive Aftermarket Group. Wix Filtration Products manufactured, marketed, sold and distributed Filters to customers throughout the United States.

B. Pursuant to the terms of the Purchase Agreement, Affinia Group Inc. assumed and succeeded to the liabilities of Dana Corporation's Automotive Aftermarket Group. The Purchase Agreement specifically states in the recitals that liabilities are being purchased relating to the manufacture and distribution of automotive aftermarket components:

Whereas, Seller and its Subsidiaries are, among other things, engaged through Seller's Automotive Aftermarket Group in the manufacture and distribution of automotive aftermarket components in the North America, Europe, Asia, and South America, as described in Exhibit A (the "Business"); and

Whereas, upon the terms and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, the parties desire that Seller and its Subsidiaries sell, assign and transfer to Purchaser, and that Purchaser purchase and acquire from Seller and its Subsidiaries, all of the right, title and interest of Seller and its Subsidiaries in and to the Purchased Shares and the Purchased Assets, and that Purchaser assume the Assumed Liabilities.

(Purchase Agreement at p. 5)

C. The broad definition of Assumed Liabilities in Section 1.4 states:

Simultaneously with the Closing, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein, Purchaser shall assume and be liable for, and shall pay, perform and discharge when due, all obligations and Liabilities of Seller and its Subsidiaries (other than the Acquired Companies), whether occurring or accruing before, on or after the Closing Date, whether known or unknown, fixed or contingent, asserted or unasserted, and not satisfied or extinguished as of the Closing date, primarily relating to, primarily arising out of or primarily resulting from the Business (collectively, and excluding the Excluded Liabilities the “ASSUMED LIABILITIES”), including, by way of example and not limitation, all of the following obligations and liabilities of Seller and its Subsidiaries (other than the Acquired Companies):

*****

(d) all Liabilities arising from commitments (in the form of accepted purchase orders or otherwise) to sell, distribute, manufacture or market products, or outstanding quotations, proposals or bids, primarily relating to, primarily arising out of or primarily resulting from the Business;

*****

(f) all Liabilities under Business Contracts;

Purchase Agreement at pp. 8-9.

D. As set forth above, the liabilities of Dana Corporation transferred “simultaneous with the closing” and were not executory terms of the Purchase Agreement. Affinia Group, Inc. is liable under successorship liability for the illegal practices alleged herein that occurred prior to December 1, 2004 because it assumed those liabilities by contract.

E. Affinia Group, Inc. is also liable for the illegal practices alleged herein throughout the conspiracy because it joined, and continued to participate in, the previously established conspiracy.

F. Affinia Group has represented that since on or about December 1, 2004, Wix Filtration Products has been operating through the Affinia Global Filtration Operating Group and Wix Filtration Corp. LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Affinia Group, Inc. All references to “Wix” herein refer to Affinia Group Inc., both individually and as the successor-in-interest to Dana Corporation and its subsidiaries, and Wix Filtration Corp. LLC.

ANSWER TO ¶ 47

Cummins is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in Paragraph 47 and on that basis denies them.

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 54, except admits that the Complaint purports to refer collectively to Champion, Purolator, Honeywell, Wix, Cummins, Donaldson and Baldwin as “Defendants”.

Complaint ¶ 55

Various persons and entities, whose identities are at this time unknown to Plaintiffs, participated as co-conspirators in the violations alleged herein and performed acts and made statements in furtherance thereof. When Plaintiffs learn the identities of such co-conspirators, Plaintiffs may seek leave to amend this Complaint to add such co-conspirators as Defendants.

ANSWER TO ¶ 55

Cummins denies the allegations contained in the first sentence of Paragraph 55. The second sentence of Paragraph 55 does not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in the second sentence of Paragraph 55.

Complaint ¶ 56

The acts alleged in this Complaint have been done by the Defendants and their co-conspirators, or were authorized, ordered, or done by their respective officers, agents, employees, or representatives while actively engaged in the management of each Defendant's business or affairs.

ANSWER TO ¶ 56

Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 56 as they relate to Cummins, except as otherwise explicitly admitted in this Answer. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of all other allegations contained in Paragraph 56 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 57

Each of the Defendants named herein acted as the agent or joint venturer of or for the other Defendants with respect to the acts, violations and common course of conduct alleged herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 57

Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 57 as they relate to Cummins. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of all other allegations contained in Paragraph 57 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 58

Filters are used to remove contaminants from combustion engines and related systems. Oil filters remove contaminants from the motor oil used to lubricate an engine's pistons. Fuel filters primarily screen dirt and rust particles from an engine's fuel lines. Engine air filters prevent particulate matter from entering an engine's cylinders. Because they become less effective over time as contaminants are filtered out of or away from the respective systems, the Filters at issue in this litigation are designed to be replaced periodically. Replacement filters are purchased to replace original equipment filters included in new motor vehicles. The Freedonia Group, a market research firm, estimates that in 2006 oil filters sales were approximately $1.6 billion, engine air filters sales were approximately $930 million, and fuel filters sales were approximately $200 million.

ANSWER TO ¶ 58

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 58, except admits that the first four sentences of Paragraph 58 describe generally the functions of oil, fuel and engine air filters. Cummins denies the allegations contained in the last sentence of Paragraph 58, as it is without sufficient information to form a belief as to their truth.

Complaint ¶ 59

Filter manufacturers sell their products to vehicle manufacturers for use in new automobiles, and to "aftermarket" sellers for professional or self-installation. The Defendants are the primary manufacturers of aftermarket (or "replacement") Filters in the United States and the allegations contained herein involve the Filters aftermarket.

ANSWER TO ¶ 59

Cummins admits that it sells automotive and light-duty truck oil, air, and fuel filters to original equipment manufacturers and to customers that sell such filters in the aftermarket. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in the second sentence of Paragraph 59, and on that basis denies them. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 59 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 60

Honeywell estimated that in 2007 there were 217 million automobiles on the road in the United States. An important part of maintaining the life and performance of an automobile involves changing its Filters. Most automobile manufacturers recommend that the oil filter be replaced at every oil change. According to a car care web site, “next to changing your oil and oil filter, replacing your air and fuel filters on a regular basis is the single most important act of maintenance you can perform for your engine.” NAPA recommends that a car owner replace the air filter once a year, or every 15,000 miles. Thus, for most cars on the road today, the owners replace their vehicle’s oil and air filters at least every year.

ANSWER TO ¶ 60

Cummins admits the allegations contained in the second and last sentences of Paragraph 60. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 60, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 61

Because of the recommended maintenance intervals, oil changes are the automotive aftermarket’s number one service and, therefore, oil filters are the aftermarket’s highest volume replacement part.

ANSWER TO ¶ 61

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 61, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 62

The Filters aftermarket is organized around two groups of direct purchasers. The first group of direct purchasers buys Filters for installation into others’ vehicles. This group includes companies such as Jiffy Lube, Midas, and Express Lube. Those direct purchasers sell filters to the end-users called the “do-it-for-me” (DIFM) purchasers, who pay the retailers to install Filters into their vehicles for them.

ANSWER TO ¶ 62

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 62, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 63

The second group of direct purchasers includes retailers and distributors. These retailers include automotive supply stores such as Advance Auto Parts, AutoZone and O'Reilly, and mass merchandisers like Wal-Mart. According to O'Reilly Automotive Co-President Greg Henslee, the top ten retailers account for approximately 40 percent of all replacement Filters sold in the United States. This group of direct purchasers in turn re-sells those Filters to the do-it-yourself ("DIY") end-users, who install Filters into their own vehicles.

ANSWER TO ¶ 63

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 63, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 64

End users of Filters, either as purchasers of Filters separately (DIY) or as part of a service package that included both parts and services (DIFM), are included in the Class.

ANSWER TO ¶ 64

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 64, and on that basis denies them, except admits that plaintiffs purport to include DIY and DIFM end users of filters in plaintiffs' proposed class.

Complaint ¶ 65

The Filters industry is highly susceptible to cartel activity. This is a result of a number of factors including: (a) high market concentration, (b) the commodity nature of Filters (including both interchangeability and price as the primary drivers of sales), (c) barriers to entry, (d) inelastic demand, and (e) lack of substitutability of the product.

ANSWER TO ¶ 65

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 65.

Complaint ¶ 66

A high degree of concentration facilitates the operation of a cartel because it makes it easier to coordinate behavior among possible co-conspirators and makes it more difficult for customers to avoid the effects of collusive behavior. The market for Filters is highly concentrated, with the Defendants controlling about 90 percent of the sales of these products. Several of the Defendants also have interlocking businesses arrangements. For example, in April 2006, ArvinMeritor sold Purolator to Bosch and Mann + Hummel. Bosch and Mann + Hummel now operate Purolator as a joint venture. Mann + Hummel CEO Dieter Seipler stated that the joint venture was a natural alliance because Bosch is a major private-brand customer for Mann + Hummel in Europe and in other regions of the world. These interlocking business arrangements, in a highly concentrated market, assisted the Defendants in successfully implementing their conspiracy.

ANSWER TO ¶ 66

Cummins denies that it was part of any alleged conspiracy. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 66, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 67

Filters are considered to be inter-exchangeable, undifferentiated products. All Filters must undergo Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) testing to ensure that they meet vehicle manufacturers' specifications. An industry report notes that vehicle manufacturers have done a better job utilizing a small number of oil filters to cover all of their engine applications. Thus, there are fewer part numbers in the aftermarket Filter line than other aftermarket automotive products.

ANSWER TO ¶ 67

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 67, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 68

Purolator and Honeywell's FRAM are perhaps the most well known Filters brands. Wix lacks a similarly strong brand name but manufactures Filters under private label for, inter alia, NAPA Auto Parts and Carquest Auto Parts. Wix is also the number one filter supplier for NASCAR. Champion focuses on private label manufacturing as well and manufacturing Filters under Mobile 1, Valvoline, STP, Mighty, and Firestone labels.

ANSWER TO ¶ 68

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 68, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 69

The private label segment provides an example of the fungible nature of Filters. Shell and Pennzoil, for example, both sell private label Filters made for them by a number of the Defendants to Shell or Pennzoil's specifications. Table 1 below shows the manufacturers (suppliers) of Filters for Shell in 2004.

Table 1

Company/Brand	Sales Volume
Honeywell/FRAM	28%
ArvinMeritor/Purolator	26%
Champion Laboratories	17%
Wix	14%
Baldwin/Hastings	3%
AC Delco	10%

For the Pennzoil and Quaker brand of Filters, Honeywell (FRAM) and Former Purolator are the main suppliers, as shown in Table 2.

Table 2

Filter Brand	Manufacturer	Purchase Volume
Pennzoil Filters (USA)	Honeywell/FRAM	40 million Units
Quaker State Filters (CAN)
Quaker State Filters (USA)	ArvinMeritor/Purolator	25.1 million Units
Pennzoil Filters (CAN)

ANSWER TO ¶ 69

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 69, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 70

Price is the key driver of sales of Filters. According to an industry report, direct purchasers surveyed for the report considered price to be the most important factor in their purchase of Filters.

ANSWER TO ¶ 70

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 70, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 71

The presence of significant barriers to entry makes new entry by others difficult and facilitates the operation of a cartel. In the market for Filters, there are significant barriers to entry. In the Filters market, barriers to entry arise primarily from the need for significant start-up capital expenditures, initial product depth within a product line, distribution infrastructure, and long-standing customer relationships.

ANSWER TO ¶ 71

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 71, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 72

There is significant evidence that demand for Filters is inelastic, or in other words, does not change in the face of price changes. It is well established in economics that goods which form a small share of consumer expenditure exhibit inelastic demand, because consumers are less likely to change consumption patterns when the absolute price increase is limited. Because vehicle manufacturers either require or strongly encourage Filter changes at specific intervals, end users do not decrease their use of Filters when prices increase. Filters are a small part of the cost of owning and maintaining an automobile.

ANSWER TO ¶ 72

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 72, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 73

There are no reasonable substitutes for Filters. Vehicle owners have little choice but to have the Filters in their vehicles replaced because they tend to wear out over time and are necessary for the operation of their vehicles.

ANSWER TO ¶ 73

Cummins admits that automotive and light-duty truck oil, air and fuel filters tend to wear out over time and for that reason must be replaced. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 73, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 74

Beginning at least as early as January 1, 1999, and continuing thereafter, the Defendants and their co-conspirators participated in a continuing contract, combination and conspiracy to artificially fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices for Filters in the United States.

ANSWER TO ¶ 74

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 75

In formulating and effectuating their unlawful scheme, the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in anticompetitive and other unlawful activities, including but not limited to the following:

- a. Attending meetings or otherwise engaging in discussions in the United States and elsewhere by telephone, facsimile, and email regarding the pricing and sale of Filters;
- b. Agreeing to charge specific prices for Filters and otherwise fix, increase, maintain, or stabilize the prices of Filters sold to purchasers in the United States;
- c. Selling Filters to customers in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and non-competitive prices pursuant to the agreement reached;
- d. Accepting payment for Filters sold to customers in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and non-competitive prices;
- e. Communicating with one another to discuss the prices, customers, markets, and price levels of Filters sold in the United States;
- f. Giving actual and/or apparent authority to employees' participation in furtherance of the wrongful conduct; and
- g. Fraudulently concealing the conspiracy, conspiratorial contacts, and wrongful conduct through various means.

ANSWER TO ¶ 75

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 76

As a result of their unlawful actions, the Defendants were able to impose multiple coordinated price increases for Filters during the Class Period, including in 1999, early 2004, and late 2004/early 2005.

ANSWER TO ¶ 76

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 77

Numerous allegations contained herein, particularly with respect to the collusive meetings and communications between and among the Defendants and their co-conspirators, are based upon the personal knowledge of William G. Burch, a former senior sales executive at Defendants Purolator and Champion during most of the relevant period.

ANSWER TO ¶ 77

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 78

In February 1999, ArvinMeritor (or its predecessor) acquired the Purolator LLCs. Marlen Silverii, an ArvinMeritor Senior Vice President formerly employed by Former Purolator, was instrumental in completing the acquisition.

ANSWER TO ¶ 78

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 78, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 79

Shortly after the acquisition, in or around March 1999, Mr. Silverii met with certain Former Purolator senior employees to discuss Former Purolator's profit margins. In the view of ArvinMeritor executives, those profit margins were too low.

ANSWER TO ¶ 79

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 79, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 80

At the time ArvinMeritor acquired the Purolator LLCs, Mr. Burch was a National Accounts Manager at Former Purolator. Mr. Burch was present at the March 1999 meeting with Mr. Silverii and other senior Former Purolator employees.

ANSWER TO ¶ 80

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 80, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 81

During the meeting, Mr. Silverii explained that ArvinMeritor's executives wanted to implement a Filters price increase. In order to do so successfully without losing market share or business, Mr. Silverii said that Former Purolator would need the agreement of other Defendants to raise prices along with Former Purolator. Mr. Silverii told the assembled Former Purolator senior personnel to contact their counterparts at other Defendant Filter manufacturers with the express purpose of obtaining each Defendant's agreement to implement a coordinated, industry-wide Filters price increase.

ANSWER TO ¶ 81

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 81, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 82

A number of the senior Former Purolator personnel who attended the meeting complied with Mr. Silverii's directive. These individuals contacted and communicated with their counterparts at the other Defendants regarding a coordinated price increase for Filters. The Defendants met, discussed, and otherwise coordinated the timing, amount and purported public justification for the price increase on at least several occasions in the following months.

ANSWER TO ¶ 82

Cummins denies that any employees of Former Purolator contacted and communicated with Cummins employees regarding a coordinated price increase. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 82 to the extent that they refer to other defendants, and on that basis denies them. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 82.

Complaint ¶ 83

In or about May 1999, the Defendants discussed increasing Filter prices at the Jiffy Lube Association of Franchisees Show (“JLAF Show”) in Nashville, Tennessee. Mr. Silverii and at least one other senior Former Purolator employee met with a senior Honeywell employee at the JLAF Show and discussed increasing Filters prices.

ANSWER TO ¶ 83

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 83 to the extent they purport to relate to Cummins. Cummins is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 83 and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 84

In or about June 1999, Mr. Burch heard from a fellow Former Purolator employee that Former Purolator had spoken with Honeywell at the JLAF Show and told them to raise prices. The fellow Former Purolator employee also told Mr. Burch that “FRAM knows we’re going up.”

ANSWER TO ¶ 84

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 84, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 85

Also in mid-1999, Mr. Silverii met with Champion’s President, Tom Mowatt. Mr. Silverii and Mr. Mowatt discussed fixing and coordinating Filters prices in the United States.

ANSWER TO ¶ 85

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 85, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 86

On or about June 28, 1999, Mr. Silverii directed a senior Former Purolator employee to fax Honeywell a draft letter that Former Purolator intended to send to its customers informing them of an impending price increase on all Purolator Filters. The draft letter, backdated June 21, 1999, announced a price increase that Former Purolator planned to implement on August 15, 1999. The pretext for the price increase, as set out in the letter, included increases in costs for labor, health care, freight, and raw materials.

ANSWER TO ¶ 86

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 86, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 87

On June 28, 1999, the Former Purolator senior employee sent the draft price increase letter by fax to his counterpart at Honeywell, as requested by Mr. Silverii. The fax recipient at Honeywell was the same person with whom Mr. Silverii secretly met at the JLA Show. When the fax was sent, Former Purolator had not yet sent the price increase letter to any of its customers.

ANSWER TO ¶ 87

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 87, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 88

On July 14, 1999, Former Purolator sent the price increase letter to its customers (though the letter was dated "July 7, 1999"). The letter was nearly identical to the draft letter Former Purolator shared with Honeywell a few weeks earlier. Shortly thereafter, around August 1999, the other Defendants followed Former Purolator and successfully implemented similar Filters price increases. With this unlawful agreement in place, Defendants could maintain their price fixing scheme going forward.

ANSWER TO ¶ 88

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in the first two sentences of Paragraph 88, and on that basis denies them. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in the third sentence of Paragraph 88 regarding the timing of other defendants' price increases, and on that basis denies them. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 88.

Complaint ¶ 89

Over the next few years, the Defendants continued to adhere to their unlawful agreement and conspiracy. Each Defendant acted with the knowledge that every other Defendant had already made a conscious commitment to the common scheme of joint price increases.

ANSWER TO ¶ 89

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 90

No Defendant announced its withdrawal from the conspiracy. No Defendant voiced any hesitation. In fact, before a trade association meeting in 2004, a Champion sales representative joked that he and Champion's President, John Evans, "talked about going to [the] Filter [Manufacturers] Council cocktail party wearing T-shirts saying, 'we went up first last time.'"

ANSWER TO ¶ 90

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 90, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 91

In or about February 2004, Champion's President, Mr. Evans, met with Champion's senior employees who were responsible for the Filters business, including Mr. Burch (who had left Former Purolator in August 1999 to join Champion as a National Accounts Manager). Mr. Evans indicated at that meeting that Champion would "lead the way" with another Filters price increase. Mr. Evans advised the assembled employees that it was important the Filters price increase not come at the expense of Champion's market share. Champion needed to coordinate the price increase with the other Defendants to ensure the continued success of the conspiracy. Mr. Evans therefore directed Champion's senior employees to make frequent telephone calls to the other Defendants to discuss pricing.

ANSWER TO ¶ 91

Cummins denies the allegations of Paragraph 91 as it is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to their truth.

Complaint ¶ 92

Mr. Evans, together with other Champion senior employees, contacted each of the other Defendants, including Mr. Silverii at ArvinMeritor, to coordinate this proposed Filters price increase.

ANSWER TO ¶ 92

Cummins denies that it was contacted by Mr. Evans or any other Champion employee with respect to a proposed price increase. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 92 to the extent that they relate to the other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 93

As a result of these illicit communications, and in furtherance of their continuing conspiracy, the Defendants agreed to increase Filters prices. In or about April 2004, each of the Defendants announced and successfully implemented a coordinated Filters price increase.

ANSWER TO ¶ 93

Cummins admits that in the spring of 2004 it announced a price increase on its filters that was to be effective on June 1, 2004, but denies that it was coordinated with any other filter manufacturer. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 93 regarding the timing or success of other defendants' price increases. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 93.

Complaint ¶ 94

In early September 2004, Champion led the effort to implement yet another price increase among the Defendants in furtherance of the conspiracy. Mr. Evans again enlisted several senior Champion sales representatives, including Mr. Burch, to discuss the price increase with the other Defendants.

ANSWER TO ¶ 94

Cummins denies that it was contacted by Mr. Evans or any other Champion employees with respect to a proposed price increase. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of all other allegations in Paragraph 94 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 95

In September 2004, at the Filters Manufacturers Council meeting in Nashville, Tennessee, Champion employees discussed with Former Purolator and Wix, among other Defendants, Champion's intention to raise Filters prices again in 2004. At the time of the meeting, Mr. Evans (from Champion) was the Council's Vice-Chairman, and Mr. Silverii (from ArvinMeritor) was Secretary. In the words of one Champion employee, the "primary goal over the next day and a half [of the Council meeting] is to get everybody to get out there, and the message is gonna be that we're going up again, and when." The employee noted: "That's basically our message to everybody."

ANSWER TO ¶ 95

Cummins admits that at least one Cummins employee attended the Filter Manufacturers Council meeting in Nashville, Tennessee in September 2004. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of all other allegations in Paragraph 95 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 95.

Complaint ¶ 96

By October 27, 2004, Champion had received confirmation from Honeywell, Cummins, Donaldson, and Former Purolator that each would follow (or had already followed) Champion in implementing a Filters price increase of at least 5 percent. Honeywell, Donaldson and Cummins went so far as to send Champion their draft price increase letters. Former Purolator gave Champion a verbal confirmation that it agreed to increase its Filters prices.

ANSWER TO ¶ 96

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 97

In or around October or November 2004, the Defendants informed their respective customers of the previously agreed-upon Filters price increase. In an attempt to conceal the conspiracy and the collusively coordinated price increase, the Defendants “blamed” the increase on rising steel costs.

ANSWER TO ¶ 97

Cummins admits that in the fall of 2004 it announced a price increase on its filters that was to be effective on January 3, 2005, and refers to that announcement for the contents thereof. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 97.

Complaint ¶ 98

At or around the same time, one of Champion’s largest private-label customers questioned the need for another price increase in 2004. The customer also questioned Champion’s explanation that rising steel prices necessitated the price increase. The customer requested that Champion provide it with an additional explanation justifying the price increase.

ANSWER TO ¶ 98

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 98, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 99

The request created a serious dilemma for Champion. A few months earlier, Champion had introduced a new oil filter called eCore, twelve models of which fit 75 percent of the cars on the road. The eCore filter was made, in part, out of fabric instead of steel. Thus, Champion's oil filter input costs had actually decreased by approximately 20 percent because of its diminished need for raw steel in the manufacture of eCore oil filters.

ANSWER TO ¶ 99

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 99, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 100

Instead of providing its customers with its eCore input prices, Champion gave its customer a Former Purolator spreadsheet for Former Purolator's outdated input costs, falsely representing Former Purolator's costs as its own. The spreadsheet satisfied the complaining customer. But more importantly, the spreadsheet concealed the true basis for the price increase: the Defendants' price-fixing agreement.

ANSWER TO ¶ 100

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 100, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 101

Likewise, in the same time period, Honeywell changed the design of most of its FRAM filters, and its private-label filters for Pennzoil and Quaker State, to have cardboard end caps instead of steel, greatly reducing the amount of steel needed for its filters. Yet, when it increased prices in late 2004, it cited increased steel costs as the pretextual reason.

ANSWER TO ¶ 101

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 101, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 102

Ultimately, in or around November or December 2004, each of the Defendants had successfully implemented another coordinated Filters price increase. Thereafter, in subsequent years, the Defendants continued to adhere to their unlawful agreement and conspiracy, maintaining or increasing Filters prices. To date, no Defendant has announced its withdrawal from the conspiracy.

ANSWER TO ¶ 102

Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 102 to the extent that they relate to Cummins. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 102 to the extent that they relate to other defendants, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 103

In July 2008, a spokesperson for the United States Department of Justice confirmed that “[t]he Antitrust Division is investigating the possibility of anti-competitive practices in the automotive oil filter industry.” The spokesperson, however, declined to identify which companies were under investigation.

ANSWER TO ¶ 103

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 103, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 104

In a July 2008 10-Q filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission, Honeywell confirmed that various Defendants, including Honeywell itself, had received subpoenas in connection with the DOJ’s investigation. After disclosing that it was a defendant in various suits involving the claims set forth in this Complaint, Honeywell stated that “[t]he Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (DOJ) is also investigating the allegations raised in these suits and has issued subpoenas to certain employees of the defendants including Honeywell.”

ANSWER TO ¶ 104

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 104, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 105

The purpose and effect of the Defendants' unlawful conduct was to be able to charge more for Filters than the Defendants could have charged in a free market unencumbered by their illegal activities.

ANSWER TO ¶ 105

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 106

The Defendants' conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain, and/or stabilize the prices of Filters at supra-competitive levels resulted in harm to Plaintiffs and class members. The entire overcharge for the Filters at issue was passed on to end users and is readily identifiable and quantifiable. As a result, Plaintiffs and class members paid higher prices than they would have in the absence of the Defendants' conspiracy.

ANSWER TO ¶ 106

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 107

As two noted antitrust scholars – Professors Robert G. Harris (Professor Emeritus and former Chair of the Business and Public Policy Group at the Haas School of Business at the University of California at Berkeley) and Lawrence A. Sullivan (former Professor of Law Emeritus at Southwestern Law School and author of the Handbook of the Law of Antitrust) – have observed, “in a multiple-level chain of distribution, passing on monopoly overcharges is not the exception; it is the rule.”

ANSWER TO ¶ 107

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 107, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 108

Retailers and distributors of Filters are subject to vigorous price competition. Filters are commodity products, with functionally equivalent products available from the Defendants, which manufacture them pursuant to standard specifications and sizes. As commodities, Filters enjoy little or no brand loyalty, such that aggressive pricing causes consumers to switch preferences to different brands.

ANSWER TO ¶ 108

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 108, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 109

Because retailers and distributors are subject to vigorous price competition, they have thin net margins and rapidly pass on cost changes for Filters rather than absorbing them. As a result, indirect purchaser Class members paid more for Filters than they would have paid in a competitive marketplace.

ANSWER TO ¶ 109

Cummins denies plaintiffs' allegations that members of the purported class did not purchase light duty air, oil and fuel filters in a competitive market and that they paid artificially high prices. Cummins is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations of Paragraph 109, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 110

As with the overcharges to DIY Class members who purchased standalone Filters, the overcharges to DIFM Class members who purchased Filters as part of a service package that included both parts and services is both identifiable and quantifiable. States generally require service package providers to collect sales tax on the sale of Filters, but not on the service portion of the package of services (i.e., the oil change or installation of the filter itself). Retailers in those states must, by law, break out the charge for the Filter. Those charges may be itemized on a sales receipt, or may be kept internally by the retailer for purposes of calculating its sales tax collection and payment obligations.

ANSWER TO ¶ 110

Cummins denies that members of the purported DIY or DIFM classes paid overcharges. Cummins is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations of Paragraph 110, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 111

The aforesaid combination and conspiracy has had the following effects, among others:

- a. Price competition for Filters has been suppressed, restrained and eliminated;
- b. The price of Filters has been fixed, raised, maintained, and/or stabilized at artificial and non-competitive levels; and
- c. Consumers of Filters were deprived of free and open competition in the Filters market.

ANSWER TO ¶ 111

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 112

The Defendants charged supra-competitive prices for Filters. By reason of the alleged violations of the antitrust laws, Plaintiffs and Class members have sustained injury to their business or property, having paid higher prices for Filters than they would have paid in the absence of the illegal contract, combination or conspiracy. As a result, Plaintiffs and Class members have been injured in their business and/or property and have suffered damages in an amount presently undetermined. This is an antitrust injury of the type that the antitrust laws were meant to punish and prevent.

ANSWER TO ¶ 112

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 113

The specific amounts of damages have not yet been determined because such determination will require discovery. Commonly used and well-accepted economic models can be used to measure both the extent and the amount of the supra-competitive charge passed-through the chain of distribution to indirect purchasers such as Plaintiffs and Class members.

ANSWER TO ¶ 113

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in the first sentence of Paragraph 113, and on that basis denies them. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 113.

Complaint ¶ 114

Plaintiffs bring this action as a class action under Rules 23(a), 23(b)(2) and/or 23(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated, seeking injunctive relief under the federal antitrust laws. This “Nationwide Injunctive Class” is defined as:

All persons or entities in the United States who purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 1999 through the present (the “Class Period”) from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O’Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

Excluded from the Class are the Defendants and their officers, directors, employees, parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, any juror assigned to this action, and all federal or state governmental entities (but not local, municipal or other governmental entities).

ANSWER TO ¶ 114

Cummins denies that it sells any Filters for resale purposes to any of the Reseller Entities defined in Paragraph 114. Cummins admits that plaintiffs purport to bring this action as a class action under Rules 23(a), (b)(2) and/or (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and that plaintiffs purport to represent the class described in Paragraph 114. Cummins denies that class action treatment is appropriate and denies all other allegations contained in Paragraph 114.

Complaint ¶ 115

Plaintiffs also bring this action on their own behalf and as a class action pursuant to Rules 23(a), 23(b)(2) and/or 23(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and/or respective state statute(s), on behalf of all members of the following “Indirect Purchaser State Classes”:

All persons and entities in Arizona, Arkansas, California, the District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, West Virginia, and Wisconsin who purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 1999 through the present (the “Class Period”) from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O’Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

All persons and entities in Nebraska who indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 2002 through the present from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone

Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O'Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

All persons and entities in New Hampshire who indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 2008 through the present from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O'Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

All persons and entities in Utah who indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 2006 through the present from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O'Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

All persons and entities in Wyoming who indirectly purchased for their own use and not for resale Filters manufactured and/or sold by one or more of the Defendants or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest at any time from at least January 1, 2006 through the present from one or more of the following “Reseller Entities”: Advance Auto Parts, Inc., Ashland, Inc., Autozone, Inc., Bridgestone Retail Operations, LLC d/b/a Firestone Complete Auto, General Parts, Inc., Genuine Parts Company, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company d/b/a/ Goodyear Gemini Automotive Care, Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Midas, Inc., O’Reilly Automotive, Inc., Pennzoil-Quaker State Company, The Pep Boys – Manny, Moe & Jack, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Texaco, Inc., Wal-Mart Store, Inc., or any of their parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest.

Excluded from these Classes are the Defendants and their officers, directors, employees, parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, predecessors or successors in interest, any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, any juror assigned to this action, and all federal or state governmental entities (but not local, municipal or other governmental entities).

ANSWER TO ¶ 115

Cummins denies that it sells any Filters for resale purposes to any of the Reseller Entities defined in Paragraph 114 and/or Paragraph 115. Cummins admits that plaintiffs purport to bring this action as a class action under Rules 23(a), (b)(2) and/or (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and that plaintiffs purport to represent the class described in Paragraph 115. Cummins denies that class action treatment is appropriate and denies the all other allegations contained in Paragraph 115.

Complaint ¶ 116

Due to the nature of the trade or the commerce involved, Class members are geographically dispersed throughout the United States, and joinder of all Class members would be impracticable. While the exact number of Class members is unknown to Plaintiffs at this time, Plaintiffs believe that there are, at least, hundreds of thousands of Class members.

ANSWER TO ¶ 116

Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 116, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 117

Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the other Class members. Plaintiffs and Class members purchased Filters at artificially maintained, supra-competitive prices established by the actions of the Defendants in connection with the restraint of trade alleged herein. Plaintiffs and Class members have all sustained damage in that they paid inflated prices for Filters.

ANSWER TO ¶ 117

The first sentence of Paragraph 117 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in the first sentence of Paragraph 117. Cummins denies that plaintiffs and the class members that they seek to represent paid artificially maintained, supra-competitive, or inflated prices. Cummins denies that plaintiffs and the class members that they seek to represent have sustained damages. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 117, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 118

Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of Class members and have retained counsel competent and experienced in class action and antitrust litigation.

ANSWER TO ¶ 118

Paragraph 118 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 118.

Complaint ¶ 119

2. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all Class members, which predominate over any questions affecting solely individual members of the Class. Among the questions of law and fact common to the Classes are:

- a. Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a contract, combination or conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain, and/or stabilize the price of Filters;
- b. Whether the Defendants' contract, combination or conspiracy as alleged in this Complaint is a per se violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1 and similar state laws;
- c. Whether the Defendants' conduct violates the antitrust, unfair competition, and consumer protection laws of the states identified below;
- d. Whether the Defendants' wrongful conduct caused injury to the business or property of Plaintiffs and Class members;
- e. Whether the unlawful conduct of the Defendants caused Plaintiffs and Class members to pay more for Filters than they otherwise would have paid absent the Defendants' conduct;
- f. Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators fraudulently concealed the existence of their unlawful conduct;
- g. Whether Plaintiffs and Class members are entitled to injunctive relief;
- h. Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators unjustly enriched themselves as a result of their inequitable conduct at the expense of Class members; and
- i. The appropriate measure of damages suffered by Class members.

ANSWER TO ¶ 119

Paragraph 119 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 119.

Complaint ¶ 120

These and other questions of law and fact are common to members of the Classes and predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including legal and factual issues relating to liability, damages, and restitution.

ANSWER TO ¶ 120

Paragraph 120 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 120.

Complaint ¶ 121

A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy since joinder of all Class members is impracticable. The prosecution of separate actions by individual Class members would impose heavy burdens upon the courts and the Defendants, and would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications of the questions of law and fact common to the Classes. A class action, on the other hand, would achieve substantial economies of time, effort and expense, and would assure uniformity of decision as to persons similarly situated without sacrificing procedural fairness or bringing about other undesirable results.

ANSWER TO ¶ 121

Paragraph 121 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 121.

Complaint ¶ 122

The interest of Class members in individually controlling the prosecution of separate actions is theoretical rather than practical. The Classes have a high degree of cohesion, and prosecution of the action through representatives would be unobjectionable. The amounts at stake for Class members, while substantial in the aggregate, may not be great enough individually to enable them to maintain separate suits against the Defendants. Plaintiffs do not anticipate any difficulty in the management of this action as a class action.

ANSWER TO ¶ 122

The last sentence of Paragraph 122 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in the last sentence of Paragraph 122. Cummins is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph, and on that basis denies them.

Complaint ¶ 123

The claims asserted herein are also appropriate for class certification under the laws of each of the states under which claims are asserted.

ANSWER TO ¶ 123

Paragraph 123 asserts legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 123.

Complaint ¶ 124

Throughout the Class Period, the Defendants and their co-conspirators affirmatively and fraudulently concealed their unlawful conduct by engaging in secret meetings and communications in furtherance of their conspiracy, and by holding themselves out to the public and their customers, including Plaintiffs, as true competitors.

ANSWER TO ¶ 124

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 125

Plaintiffs and Class members had no knowledge of the Defendants' unlawful scheme and could not have discovered the Defendants' unlawful conduct at an earlier date by the exercise of due diligence. The Defendants affirmatively concealed their illegal acts and these acts only recently became known to the public through filings in a lawsuit in the Southern District of Illinois. As a result of Plaintiffs' lack of knowledge of the Defendants' unlawful scheme, Plaintiffs assert the tolling of any applicable statutes of limitations affecting the rights of action by Plaintiffs and Class members.

ANSWER TO ¶ 125

Defendant admits that plaintiffs purport to assert the tolling of any applicable statutes of limitations. Cummins denies all other allegations contained in Paragraph 125.

Complaint ¶ 126

Moreover, the Defendants' actions constitute a continuing violation in that the Defendants' anticompetitive practices have resulted in unlawfully priced Filters, and each and every such transaction at artificially inflated prices is an overt act that injures Plaintiffs and/or other Class members. These artificially inflated prices continue to exist in the relevant market as the Defendants have yet to cease their unlawful conduct or otherwise withdraw from the conspiracy. Upon each and every instance that the Defendants failed to disclose their illegal conduct and their effect on the prices paid by Plaintiffs and Class members, the Defendants knew or should have known that the undisclosed information was material to those who purchased such products.

ANSWER TO ¶ 126

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 127

In addition to this overcharging, the Defendants committed numerous additional overt acts in furtherance of their conspiracy, both within and prior to four years from the date of the original filing of this Complaint. Such overt acts included the illegal meetings and communications regarding Filter prices described herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 127

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 128

Therefore, each instance in which the Defendants engaged in the conduct complained of herein and each instance in which a Class member unknowingly paid supra-competitive prices for Filters constitute part of a continuing violation and operate to toll any applicable statutes of limitation. Furthermore, the Defendants are estopped from relying on any statute of limitations defense because of their unfair and deceptive conduct.

ANSWER TO ¶ 128

Cummins denies that it engaged in any of the alleged unlawful conduct complained of in the Complaint. The remaining allegations in Paragraph 128 assert legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent that a response is required, Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 128.

Complaint ¶ 129

Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the above Paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 129

Cummins incorporates by reference its answers to each and every allegation in the amended complaint as if fully set forth therein.

Complaint ¶ 130

The Defendants and the unnamed co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a contract, combination or conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act.

ANSWER TO ¶ 130

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 131

The contract, combination or conspiracy has resulted in an agreement, understanding or concerted action between and among the Defendants in furtherance of which the Defendants fixed, raised, maintained, and/or stabilized prices for Filters in the United States and allocated the market for Filters among themselves. Such contract, combination, or conspiracy constitutes a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws and is, in any event, an unreasonable and unlawful restraint of trade.

ANSWER TO ¶ 131

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 132

The Defendants' contract, combination, agreement, understanding or concerted action with the co-conspirators occurred in or affected interstate commerce. The Defendants' unlawful conduct was through mutual understandings, combinations or agreements by, between and among the Defendants and other unnamed co-conspirators. These other co-conspirators have either acted willingly or, due to coercion, unwillingly in furtherance of the unlawful restraint of trade alleged herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 132

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 133

The contract, combination or conspiracy has had the following effects, among others:

- a. Prices charged to Plaintiffs and Class members for Filters were fixed or stabilized at higher, artificially derived, supra-competitive levels;
- b. Plaintiffs and Class members have been deprived of the benefits of free, open and unrestricted competition in the market for Filters; and
- c. Competition in establishing the prices paid, customers of, and territories for Filters has been unlawfully restrained, suppressed and eliminated.

ANSWER TO ¶ 133

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 134

As a proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and Class members have suffered injury in that they have paid supra-competitive prices for Filters. Plaintiffs and Class members will continue to be injured in their business and property by paying more for Filters purchased indirectly from the Defendants and their co-conspirators than they would pay in the absence of the contract, combination or conspiracy.

ANSWER TO ¶ 134

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 135

These violations are continuing and will continue unless enjoined by this Court.

ANSWER TO ¶ 135

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 136

Plaintiffs and Class members are entitled to an injunction against the Defendants, preventing and restraining the violations alleged herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 136

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 137

Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the above Paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 137

Cummins incorporates by reference its answers to each and every allegation in the amended complaint as if fully set forth therein.

Complaint ¶ 138

By reason of their unlawful conduct, Defendants should make restitution to Plaintiffs and members of the Indirect Purchaser State Classes listed below.

ANSWER TO ¶ 138

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 139

Plaintiffs and members of the following Indirect Purchaser State Classes, by overpaying for Filters, have conferred a benefit on Defendants. Defendants knowingly accepted and retained the overpayments such that it would be inequitable for Defendants to keep the inflated profits.

ANSWER TO ¶ 139

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 140

The Defendants have been unjustly enriched through overpayments by Plaintiffs and the Class members and the profits reaped by the Defendants as a direct result of such overpayments. The detriment suffered by Plaintiffs and the Class members, and the Defendants' unjust enrichment, were related to and flowed from the wrongful conduct alleged herein, including, without limitation, the Defendants' unlawful and anti-competitive acts described above which fixed, raised, and/or maintained the purchase price of Filters at supra-competitive levels.

ANSWER TO ¶ 140

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 141

Under common law principles of unjust enrichment, the Defendants should not be permitted to retain the benefits conferred through over-payments by Plaintiffs and Class members. Plaintiffs and the Class members accordingly are entitled to disgorgement of all profits resulting from such overpayments and establishment of a constructive trust from which Plaintiffs and Class members may seek restitution.

ANSWER TO ¶ 141

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 142

Plaintiffs and the following Indirect Purchaser State Classes base their claims for unjust enrichment and disgorgement of profits upon common law principles of unjust enrichment recognized in each of their respective states:

- A. Arkansas Indirect Purchaser Class;
- B. California Indirect Purchaser Class;
- C. District of Columbia Indirect Purchaser Class;
- D. Hawaii Indirect Purchaser Class;
- E. Illinois Indirect Purchaser Class
- F. Iowa Indirect Purchaser Class;
- G. Massachusetts Indirect Purchaser Class;
- H. Minnesota Indirect Purchaser Class;
- I. Nebraska Indirect Purchaser Class;
- J. Nevada Indirect Purchaser Class;
- K. New Hampshire Indirect Purchaser Class;
- L. New Mexico Indirect Purchaser Class;
- M. New York Indirect Purchaser Class;
- N. Puerto Rico Indirect Purchaser Class;
- O. Rhode Island Indirect Purchaser Class;
- P. South Dakota Indirect Purchaser Class;
- Q. Tennessee Indirect Purchaser Class;
- R. Vermont Indirect Purchaser Class;
- S. West Virginia Indirect Purchaser Class;
- T. Wisconsin Indirect Purchaser Class; and

ANSWER TO ¶ 142

Cummins states that on April 1, 2010, the Court dismissed Plaintiffs' claims for unjust enrichment under the laws of New York and New Hampshire for periods prior to 2008, and therefore no response is required with respect to those allegations in Paragraph 142. To the extent a response is required for those allegations, Cummins denies them. With respect to the remaining purported indirect purchaser classes, Cummins admits that plaintiffs and the purported indirect purchaser state classes purport to base their claims for unjust enrichment and disgorgement of profits upon common law principles of unjust enrichment recognized in each of their respective states. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 142.

Complaint ¶ 143

Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the above Paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 143

Cummins incorporates by reference its answers to each and every allegation in the amended complaint as if fully set forth therein.

Complaint ¶ 144

By reason of the foregoing, the Defendants have entered into a trust, contract, combination, understanding, and agreement in restraint of trade in violation of Arizona Revised Stat. § 44-1401 et seq.<sup>[footnote omitted]</sup>; California Bus. & Prof. Code § 16701 et seq.; District of Columbia Code Ann. § 28-4501 et seq.; Hawaii Code, H.R.S. § 480-4<sup>[footnote omitted]</sup>; 740 Illinois Compiled Statutes § 10/1 et seq.; Iowa Code § 553.1 et seq.; Kansas Stat. ANSWER TO ¶ 144

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 145

Class members in each of the states listed above paid supra-competitive, artificially inflated prices for Filters. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and Class members have been injured in their business and property in that they paid more for Filters than they otherwise would have paid in the absence of the Defendants' unlawful conduct.

ANSWER TO ¶ 145

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 146

As a result of the Defendants' violations of the statutes set forth above, Plaintiffs and other Class members seek damages and costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, and all other forms of relief available under the state antitrust statutes listed above.

ANSWER TO ¶ 146

Cummins admits that plaintiffs and members of the purported classes purport to seek damages and costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, and all other forms of relief available under the state antitrust statutes listed above. Cummins denies any liability and denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 146.

Complaint ¶ 147

Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the above Paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

ANSWER TO ¶ 147

Cummins incorporates by reference its answers to each and every allegation in the amended complaint as if fully set forth therein.

Complaint ¶ 148

The Defendants have engaged in unfair, unconscionable, deceptive, and fraudulent acts or practices in violation of Arkansas Code § 4-88-101 et seq.; California Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq.; District of Columbia Code § 28-3901 et seq.; Florida Stat. § 501.201 et seq.; Hawaii Code, H.R.S. § 480-2; Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 93A, § 1 et seq.; Nebraska Revised Statutes § 59-1601 et seq.; Nevada Revised Statutes § 598.0903 et seq.; New Mexico-Stat. § 57-12-1 et seq.; North Carolina General Statutes § 75-1.1 et seq.; Utah Code § 13- 11-1 et seq.; and Vermont Statutes, Title 9, § 2451 et seq.

ANSWER TO ¶ 148

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 149

The Defendants have also violated Rhode Island Gen. Laws § 6-13.1-1 et seq. Specifically, (a) the Defendants engaged in commerce in Rhode Island; (b) the Defendants and their co-conspirators secretly agreed to raise prices for Filters sold to Rhode Island consumers by direct agreement and through artificial supply restraints on the entire Filters market, including the Reseller Entities; (c) Rhode Island consumers were targets of the conspiracy; (d) the secret agreements were not known to Rhode Island consumers; and (e) the Defendants made public statements about the prices of Filters or the Filters market such that Plaintiffs and reasonable consumers in Rhode Island were deceived into believing Filter prices to be born of a free and fair market. For example:

- A. Defendant Champion's Guide to Ethics and Standards of Business Conduct, disseminated to the public on the Internet as a link from Champion's website, Defendant Champion proclaims it "supports vigorous but fair competition," which means employees are precluded from "discussing pricing or pricing policy, costs, marketing or strategic plans, proprietary or confidential information, agreeing on prices you will charge customers, or agreeing to divide customers or markets. . . ."
- B. Defendant Honeywell states in its Form 10-K Annual Report filed March 30, 2001, that it is "subject to active competition in substantially all product and services areas."
- C. Similarly, Defendant Wix promised to consumers in its Spring 2007 Newsletter "to provide you with the best products and services in the industry at the most competitive prices possible."
- D. Defendant Donaldson highlights in its Form 10-K Annual Report filed July 31, 2005, that it "competes in a number of filtration markets . . . in a highly competitive environment."
- E. Clarcor Inc., Defendant Baldwin's parent, endorses a free and competitive Filters market in its 2006 Form 10-K Annual Report by stating "The Company encounters strong competition in the sale of all its products."

ANSWER TO ¶ 149

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 150

These statements were specifically directed at Rhode Island consumers who indirectly purchased Filters primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. Defendants intended for the Rhode Island consuming public to see the aforementioned statements. Defendants' statements created the likelihood of confusion or misunderstanding on the part of the average, non-business Rhode Island consumer, including Plaintiffs and members of the Rhode Island consumer Class. The statements were materially misleading because a reasonable consumer acting reasonably under the circumstances would understand Defendants' statements to mean that the Filters market was competitive and prices were set accordingly. Rhode Island consumers who indirectly purchased Filters were misled to believe they were paying a fair price for Filters, or that the price increases for Filters were imposed for valid business reasons. Defendants' materially deceptive statements caused Plaintiffs and the Rhode Island consumer Class members injury in that Rhode Island consumers were deprived of open and free competition, and by paying supra-competitive prices.

ANSWER TO ¶ 150

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 151

Class members in the states listed above paid supra-competitive, artificially inflated prices for Filters. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes have been injured in their business and property in that they paid more for Filters than they otherwise would have paid absent the Defendants' unlawful conduct.

ANSWER TO ¶ 151

Denied.

Complaint ¶ 152

As a result of the Defendants' violations of the laws listed above, Plaintiffs and Class members in the states listed above are entitled to equitable relief, including restitution and/or disgorgement of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation and benefits that may have been obtained by the Defendants as a result of such business practices, including compensable and such other damages in all States allowed by law.

ANSWER TO ¶ 152

Cummins admits that plaintiffs and members of the purported classes seek equitable relief, including restitution and/or disgorgement and other damages allowed by the applicable state law. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 152.

Complaint ¶ 153

Additionally, Plaintiffs and the Classes seek actual damages for their injuries caused by these violations in an amount to be determined at trial.

ANSWER TO ¶ 153

Cummins admits that plaintiffs and the purported classes seek actual damages for their alleged injuries. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 153.

Complaint ¶ 154

The Defendants' willful and unlawful conduct allows Plaintiffs and the Class to recover attorneys' fees in the states where they are allowed by law. Therefore, Plaintiffs and the Classes seek attorneys' fees where they are allowed by law.

ANSWER TO ¶ 154

Cummins admits that plaintiffs and the purported classes seek attorneys' fees where they are allowed by law. Cummins denies the remaining allegations contained in Paragraph 154.

Complaint ¶ 155

Pursuant to Rule 38(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiffs demand a jury trial as to all issues triable by a jury.

ANSWER TO ¶ 155

Cummins states that Paragraph 155 contains no allegation and therefore no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Cummins denies that plaintiffs are entitled to any relief.

Prayer For Relief

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs and Class members pray for judgment against the Defendants, as follows:

- a. That the Court determine that this action may be maintained as a class action under Rules 23(a), (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that Plaintiffs be appointed as class representatives and that Plaintiffs' counsel be appointed as counsel for the Classes;
- b. That the unlawful agreement, conduct, contract, conspiracy or combination alleged herein be adjudged and decreed to be:
  - (1) A restraint of trade or commerce in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, as alleged in the First Cause of Action;
  - (2) Acts of unjust enrichment as set forth in the Second Cause of Action.
  - (3) An unlawful combination, trust, agreement, understanding and/or concert of action in violation of state antitrust laws identified in the Third Cause of Action;
  - (4) Violations of state consumer protection and unfair competition laws identified in the Fourth Cause of Action; and
- c. That the Defendants, their affiliates, successors, transferees, assignees, and the officers, directors, partners, agents, and employees thereof, and all other persons acting or claiming to act on their behalf, be permanently enjoined and restrained from in any manner continuing, maintaining or renewing the conduct, contract, conspiracy or combination alleged herein, or from entering into any other conspiracy alleged herein, or from entering into any other contract, conspiracy or combination having a similar purpose or effect, and from adopting or following any practice, plan, program, or device having a similar purpose or effect;
- d. That Plaintiffs and Class members recover damages, as provided by state antitrust laws, and that a judgment be entered in favor of Plaintiffs and Class members against the Defendants, jointly and severally, in an amount to be trebled in accordance with such laws.

e. That Plaintiffs and Class members recover damages and/or all available monetary and equitable remedies under the state consumer protection and unfair competition laws identified above;

f. That Plaintiffs and Class members obtain penalties, punitive or exemplary damages, and/or full consideration, where the laws of the respective states identified herein so permit;

g. That Plaintiffs and Class members be awarded restitution, including disgorgement of profits obtained by the Defendants as a result of their acts of unfair competition and acts of unjust enrichment;

h. That Plaintiffs and Class members be awarded pre- and post-judgment interest, and that such interest be awarded at the highest legal rate;

i. That Plaintiffs and Class members recover their cost of this suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees as provided by law; and

j. That Plaintiffs and Class members have such other, further, and additional relief as the case may require and the Court may deem just and proper under the circumstances.

ANSWER TO PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Cummins states that the Prayer for Relief contains no factual allegation and therefore no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Cummins denies that plaintiffs are entitled to any relief.

AFFIRMATIVE AND OTHER DEFENSES

Cummins expressly reserves the right to plead additional affirmative and other defenses should any such defenses be revealed by any discovery in this case. Cummins asserts the following defenses without assuming the burden of proof as to any issue that otherwise would rest upon plaintiffs:

FIRST DEFENSE

Cummins did not participate in, and had no knowledge of, any agreement or conspiracy to fix prices of oil, air, and/or fuel filters.

SECOND DEFENSE

The Complaint, in whole or in part, fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

THIRD DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by the applicable statute of limitations, and/or by laches.

FOURTH DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part because plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages, if any.

FIFTH DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part because plaintiffs passed on any alleged overcharge to third parties and therefore did not suffer a compensable injury.

SIXTH DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part because recovery or relief would unjustly enrich plaintiffs.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred because they lack standing to seek relief.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

Plaintiffs' claims are barred because they have not suffered antitrust injury.

NINTH DEFENSE

Cummins adopts and incorporates by reference any applicable defense pleaded by any other defendant not expressly set forth herein.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Cummins prays as follows:

A. That plaintiffs' Fourth Amended Consolidated Indirect Purchaser Complaint be dismissed with prejudice;

B. That Cummins be awarded the costs, expenses and disbursements incurred by it in defending this action;

C. That Cummins be awarded the attorneys' fees incurred by it in defending this action;

D. That Cummins be awarded prejudgment interest, as appropriate; and

E. For such further relief as this Court may deem just and proper.

Dated: March 25, 2011

Respectfully submitted,
